

Simpson Elementary

Students at Simpson Elementary enjoyed a holiday performance by Marissa Bailey prior to their holiday break. Marissa, a senior at WVU with double-majors in Musical Theatre and Strategic Communications with an emphasis in public relations, was accompanied by Christian Mazza. Her father, Tom Bailey, also treated the students to a read-aloud of How Dinosaurs Have Christmas. Marissa, the sister of Simpson teacher Jamie Jo McDonald, encourages the students to join along in song and dance as she describes the various kinds of art forms in which the students can partake. She returns each year to bring the joy of the arts to Simpson Elementary during the holidays.

